None. The legal brief, however, was prepared and typed by me and submitted by me in behalf of the Japan Canned Tuna Exporters Association. I feel that submission of a legal brief in representation of an interested party before a Congressional Committee does not constitute lobbying as I understand it or as interpreted by the Congressional Clerk's Office, however, I did file a lobbying registration as well as a copy with the Justice Department in order to protect myself in case my understanding was erroneous.

- (1) Were copies or summaries of all communications and publications referred to in answer to (a) and (b) above filed with the Department of Justice and the Librarian of Congress? If not, explain why copies or summaries of any such communications and publications were not filed.

I have filed copies of the legal brief noted in 10(b) and (c) with the Department of Justice, but not with Library of Congress.

- (2) Were all such communications and publications labeled in accordance with Section 4 and Rule 400? If not, explain why any such communications and publications were not so labeled.

No. My understanding is that a legal brief submitted in behalf of an interested party before a Congressional Committee is not subject to this requirement, nevertheless if I had known of this, I would have done so to protect myself.

- (3) Were reports of the delivery, distribution, or other dissemination of all such communications and publications made to the Department of Justice in accordance with Section 4 and Rule 400? If not, explain why any such reports were omitted.

No, not applicable according to my understanding
